

Choosing a flooring option for your home can be difficult. When you have made a decision to use hardwood, you then need to consider which type of hardwood is best for you and your home. You may automatically think about the old fashioned hardwoods such as oak or maple, but why not consider bamboo. You will be taking advantage of a product tougher than most hardwoods with so many additional benefits.

- It is beautiful! - Its appearance is very distinctive with 3 unique looks available: - woven bamboo, vertical bamboo and horizontal bamboo.
- It is strong and reliable! - Bamboo is stronger than most hardwoods. It is as hard as maple and 50% more stable and harder than red oak.
- Its dimensions are more stable than most other hardwoods, reducing the likelihood of gapping.
- It is less expensive to install! - Krakatoa Bamboo is pre-coated with state of the art, UV cured polyurethane. Therefore, the cost of sanding, filling and coating the floor is eliminated, saving you 60% of the installation costs.
- It is quicker to install than hardwood floors! - As soon as the floor has been laid, you can walk on it and move in straight away. No need to wait for sanding, coating and drying time
- It offers lots of installation options! - Krakatoa Bamboo can be nailed or glued down, or floated using underlay first. Bamboo can be installed on floors, walls, or ceilings.
- It is environmentally friendly! - Bamboo is very fast growing, taking only 5 years to reach a mature state, unlike other slow growing hardwoods. Therefore, bamboo is a fast, renewable resource.
- Bamboo is allergy free! • Bamboo repels termites! • Bamboo does not impact the Panda Bear or other animal habitats • Bamboo is better!
